1. In the pre-reading session, the teacher motivates students to read the story by showing some pictures, the introduction of the characters, and the general setting of the story for about 15 minutes.
2. The last 45 minutes of the revision sessions must be allocated to the storybook.
3. Projects are instructed in the class and mostly done as a home assignment.
4. Workbook sections are to be assigned as homework and checked in the class in the following session.
5. Cover the stories at the end of the main book if time permits.
